- Immediate, temporary, or permanent removal of any Contribution uploaded by you to our site.
- Issue of a warning to you.
- Any equipment or network on which our site is stored;
- Legal proceedings against you for reimbursement of all costs on an indemnity basis (including, but not limited to, reasonable administrative and legal costs) resulting from the breach.
- Further legal action against you.
- Disclosure of such information to law enforcement authorities as we reasonably feel is necessary or as required by law.

We exclude our liability for all actions we may take to breach this acceptable use policy. The actions we may take are not limited to those described above, and we may take any other action we reasonably deem appropriate.

5. Which country laws apply to any disputes?

If you are a consumer, please note that the terms of this policy, its subject matter, and its formation are governed by English law. You and we both agree that the courts of England and Wales will have exclusive jurisdiction, except that if you are a resident of Northern Ireland may also bring proceedings in Northern Ireland, and if you are a resident of Scotland, you may also bring proceedings in Scotland. If you are a business, the terms of this policy, its subject matter and its formation (and any non-contractual disputes or claims) are governed by English law. We both agree to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of England and Wales.

6. Prevent Duty

As part of our Prevent Duty, we will monitor all users and liaise with relevant authorities where necessary. Please see our website for further information related to Prevent.

7. User of IT Equipment

Staff, teachers, and students are not allowed to connect to their personal devices using College PCs and Laptops or any devices that do not belong to Mont Rose College, e.g., remote desktop or any third-party software electronic devices.

Teachers are not allowed to use their personal computers within College premises because they have been given a PC or Laptop to work with.

8. General

Nothing in these terms of use is intended to nor shall it confer any benefit on a third party, whether under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 or otherwise. The College's failure or delay in exercising or enforcing any rights in these terms of use does not waive the College's right to enforce that right.
